COMMUNITY SYMPHONY
ORCHESTRA IN FIRST
CONCERT, JANUARY 14

The people of Arlington will be treated to a most interesting concert on the afternoon of Sunday, January 14 when the Community Symphony orchestra, conducted by Leonard Wood will present its first concert in Robbins Memorial town hall.

The orchestra, sponsored by the Arlington Woman's Club was organized along the lines suggested by Governors of several states in proclamations issued last year when they called upon the public to interest itself in such groups so that people may spend their leisure time to best advantage.

The first program will include the following:

Kronungsmarsch, aus der Oper "Der Prophet" by Meyerbeer; Wagner's "Vorspiel" from "Lohengrin" and MacDowell's Concerto No. 2 in D Minor for pianoforte and orchestra. Beethoven's Symphony No. 1 in C Major will be the second part of the program. John Gruber, well known Arlington concert pianist and winner of national awards in various competitions, will appear as the guest soloist.

The orchestral committee composed of Carl Gardner, chairman; Leonard Wood, conductor; George Livotti, concert master; Edward Powell and August Mazzocchia have been working diligently in selecting a group of 65 talented musicians to make up the orchestra.

The officers of the orchestra are Miss Grace Gordon Pierce, president; Mrs. Carolyn B. Reed, vice president; Mrs. Horace H. Lester, secretary and John A. Bishop, treasurer. The advisory

Large Crowd At League Games
Here Last Night

Three fast games were on the menu for local fans when the Arlington Amateur Basketball league played three games at Junior High East last night. The crowd was larger than ever and was well repaid with some fast games.

The Arlington A. A. easily defeated the East Side, 56 to 23 with Galucci and Priory featuring. Two junior division games were played in addition to the main game. The Arlington Bears, with Smith as star topped the Gounaris Five by the score of 30 to 18. The Skeletons, with McFarland the big gun, defeated the Ramblers, 42 to 25. The results of these games change somewhat the league standings.

Rescues Youth
Skater From Charles River

Quick thinking on the part of Arthur C. Fletcher, of 44 Anson st., this town, and a co-worker saved the life of an 18-year-old youth who went through the ice on the Charles River Wednesday afternoon.

Edward Lalumiere, 204 Sydney st., Cambridge, skated through thin ice on the Brighton side of the river near the Cottage Farm Bridge and nearly lost his life.

Elwyn Dillon, 1 Alliston st., Dorchester, and Fletcher, working near where Lalumiere went in, pushed a 50-foot ladder out on the ice and from its end passed him a life preserver. After a hard tussle they got him out of the water.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital and later sent home. Skating on the Charles River late yesterday Frederick Gargoni, 19, of 16 Thurston rd., Watertown, went through thin ice under the Cottage Farm Bridge and was hauled out by Metropolitan police.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Hodgins, of 31 Lakehill ave., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter at the Symmes hospital.

Dr. Bronner
To Speak Here

Dr. August F. Bronner, director of the Judge Baker Foundation will be the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Florence Crittendon League and Arlington Visiting Nursing Association to be held in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational Church, corner Pleasant and Maple streets, next Wednesday afternoon. The meeting will start at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. Bronner's subject will be "Understanding the Motives of Behavior."

Music will be furnished by Mrs. Arthur W. Grant, violinist, assisted by Mrs. Edwin Allen. Mrs. Grant is a member of the newly organized Community Orchestra. Tea will be served. The meeting is open to the public and a large attendance is urged. Mrs. Clarence E. Johnson is president of the league while Mrs. Roger Homer is head of the Nursing association.

Boy Dashes
Against Auto

Running into a moving automobile truck, Leo Eugene, age 6, of 18 Churchill ave., was injured late yesterday afternoon. The truck was operated by Albert E. Benison, of 15 Westminster st., Hyde Park. The boy was not believed to be badly hurt although he is being held at the Symmes hospital for observation.

"HERE COMES KELLY"

"HERE COMES KELLY" — This was indeed cheerful news to over a thousand of our customers last week, who had let their fuel supply run low. Despite snow, ice and below zero temperatures, "Kelly" oil trucks, and "Kelly" coal trucks delivered every order as promised. In some cases deliveries were made late at night but every order was taken care of. This cold snap proved beyond a doubt the advantages of buying your fuel from a dependable local concern.

The number of calls we received from people whose regular out of town dealer could not supply them, showed very clearly the wisdom of trading in Arlington.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS

We wish to thank you for your kind co-operation during the past week. Orders came in so fast that we found it necessary in a good many cases to only send half of the order. By so doing (everybody was taken care of.) We wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your business and hope that we will continue to merit your valued patronage.

ALL EYES ON WASHINGTON

There's not a great deal going on at Washington now, but there's more talk about the past, present and future state of affairs than ever. Everybody is waiting for Congress—either with fear or jubilation, depending on whose side they are on. Principal topic of speculation is how potent the Roosevelt power over the two houses will be. All the unbiased observers believe that the voting will be closer than it was before, but that when the ballots are counted the White House will have plenty of majority for anything it wants.

Money, hard, soft and medium, will be the prime topic. A tremendous amount of criticism has been directed at Mr. Roosevelt's gold-buying campaign and his refusal to stabilize the dollar. He shows no sign of deviating from his present plans, and a congressional minority will work out on him vocally on that score. There will be endless talk concerning inflation and deflation. It's probable that the Administration will continue to steer a middle course, between the extreme inflationists on the one hand, and the old-line hard money men on the other.

The President is having the securities act examined to eliminate features that have made much legitimate financing impossible—if a liberalizing change is made, he will get many bouquets from business. Also on the Presidential memorandum are bank reform and stock exchange legislative proposals.

Congress will be asked for several billion additional emergency dollars, above the regular budget, to carry on the recovery program. Most of the bureau created have allocated the bulk of their funds, and want more.

John E. Mitchell
Opens New Office

John E. Mitchell, of the Board of Public Works, who has been in the Insurance and Home Financing business for a number of years, has opened a new office in the Finance Building, 485 Massachusetts ave., Arlington Centre.

Mr. Mitchell is equipped to handle Fire, Automobile, Liability Risks and Surety Bonds. As in the past he will be pleased to assist his patrons and friends with their insurance problems.

Garden Club To Meet Wednesday

The regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Garden Club will be held in the Library Hall on Wednesday, Jan. 10 at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Everett Willis will speak on "House and Garden Harmony."

Business Men
Hear Andrews

Assistant District Attorney Andrews was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce in Wyman's English tavern last Tuesday evening. He was introduced by Charles F. McManus, in the absence of David A. Wilcox, president of the organization.

Heights Study Club
To Meet Tuesday

The next meeting of the Arlington Heights Study Club will be held on Tuesday, January 9, in Hambery Hall. There will be a discussion of Gothic architecture. Mrs. Arthur Covell will have as her subject, "Canterbury Cathedral." Mrs. David B. Dill will discuss German Gothic architecture in her paper, "Cologne Cathedral."

The hostesses will be Mrs. Vern Powell and Mrs. James P. Winstead.

THE NEWS
OBSERVES

Last Friday hundreds of motorists stormed the garages and service stations in an effort to have their cars started. Frozen radiators were very common with the temperature registering 13 degrees below zero at 9 o'clock in the morning. A visit to several local garages and dealers told the same story of long waiting lists for car service.

While the thermometer was about 8 below zero the firemen battled a stubborn fire at the Tappan house on Massachusetts ave. The extreme cold at midday kept people indoors so that the usual crowd of onlookers was comparatively small.

Honest business men realize that when a newspaper becomes the pliant tool of special interests it loses its value as an advertising medium.

Elevated patrons are still complaining about the poor service between Harvard sq. and Arlington. What is your solution of the problem?

The way old-time saloons are springing up in some wet states is getting embarrassing for the White House because the Democratic platform pledged abolition of the saloon.

President Roosevelt does not go as far as some economic experts in predicting improvement in 1934 but he estimates an upturn of at least 10 to 15 percent.

We have large appropriations for C. W. A. and P. W. A. and what not but some are asking why we do not have an afternoon mail delivery in some sections of Arlington.

If the new deal contemplates a greater development of vocational education in our schools it is essential that we have supervisors with more than an academic training if we are to fit boys for industry.

Timothy Vaillancourt, prominent East Arlington merchant, recently became a member of the Arlington Rotary Club.

Last weeks cold snap swamped our local fuel dealers with orders necessitating Sunday deliveries to families running low on fuel.

The oil trucks of one of our largest local concerns were delivering way into the night to meet emergency calls during the recent cold snap. Out of town companies could not handle the situation in many instances due to the many calls.

What 1934 will be depends a whole lot upon your attitude toward life.

The message of Jesus of Nazareth for the New Year is "Be of good cheer for I have overcome the world."

Unless we value character building institutions such as the church, Y. M. C. A. and like organizations we should not be surprised if judges and juries are afraid to administer justice for fear of the gangsters reprisals.

Greater satisfaction would result to all if the Chamber of Commerce Commercial Division would appoint a Board of Directors or an Executive Committee with power to act upon the many questions that come before this organization for consideration. These matters are of vital concern many times to the business men of the community and should not be left to one or two individuals for settlement.

During these times of reconstruction we cannot accuse the Republicans of rocking the boat over much.

Now that automobiles have "knee action" some of us should get an awful kick out of riding.

While chain store sales generously showed an increase over 1932, food chains with one exception showed a decrease up to the end of November.

Sergeant Jacobs of the local police seems to be unravelling some mystery most of the time. Recently a request from New York to locate a newspaper man of unknown residence and business connections finally resulted in finding the party through his efforts. Our police are wide awake, modernly equipped and always on the job.

We observed the snow removal truck at work on Massachusetts Avenue recently and estimated that it took about one minute to load a large truck with snow.

The governmental drive to humanize business brings to us a realization that respect for law is one of the first essentials of good citizenship.

A total of 485,000 auto plates were given out for 1934, a considerable increase over 1933.

Sergeant Daniel O. Barry of the Arlington police and officer Holden of Belmont arrested Robert J. Doherty, of Somerville for the theft of an automobile in Belmont on Tuesday afternoon.

The auto belonging to J. James Sullivan of 14 Gloucester street was stolen from in front of Harry's Men's Shop last Tuesday.

Both the bride and groom are well-known locally. Mrs. Winner attended Arlington High graduated in 1926, after which she studied at the Massachusetts School of Art. The groom graduated from Arlington High in '23 and attended Bowdoin College. He belongs to Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is engaged in the insurance business. He is treasurer and active member of the Friends of the Drama and a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Asks Several Timely Questions

Dear Sir:
I'd like to have the following few questions answered by town officials or some such authorities:

1. Are the Welfare and Unemployment Departments on a strict basis of economy and efficiency?

2. Are all worthy applicants dealt with fairly and squarely and without the influence of politicians?

3. Of what benefit will the CWA project be in relieving heavy expenses to these above departments?

4. Is each homeowner of this town taxed within reasonable limits?

5. Office seekers have promised the citizens of Arlington such transportation facilities as would be a credit to the town. Have these same men kept that promise?

Thanking you for printing these questions in your newspaper, I am,

Sincerely,
Thomas J. Coffey
Arlington, Mass.

Many Thrills In Regent Picture

"Now in the script, Buck, you crash a racing car and smash a plane," were the explanatory words of Director George B. Selts to Buck Jones as preparations were made on the Columbia lot for the filming of "The Thrill Hunter," the attraction at the Regent Theatre today and tomorrow.

"But I can fly a plane and I certainly know how to drive an auto," protested Buck.

"Make no difference," was the reply, "in this story you're deaf, dumb and blind about both of them, so just forget everything you ever knew about either."

Buck did forget all he knew about either a plane or a fast racing car and the results are seen in the thrills and action of "The Thrill Hunter."

The story called for Buck to play the title role of a roaming cowboy whose main delight in life was in the narration of fanciful and thrilling tales of his fictitious exploits of flying for Chinese rebels and winning the Grand Prix for auto racing in Europe.

GIRL SCOUTS KEEN ON WINTER CAMPING

Judging by the number of inquiries which have been pouring into the local Girl Scout office lately, winter camping will again be one of the most popular of the Girl Scout activities.

The local camp committee, Mr. Harold Yeames, chairman, announces that winter day camping will begin on Saturday, January 16 and will be conducted every other Saturday from then on.

All notices in regard to camping will be given in the Scout news each Friday. Arrangements are to be the same as last year: in general, a limited number of registrations will be accepted in order of receipt at the office. Every girl attending is to bring a lunch and some hot dish will be prepared by the campers at noon. Warm winter clothing should be worn with particular attention being paid to footwear.

The camp house will be used as before for shelter and the airtight stove installed last year will again be put to good use.

Scout knives, hatchets, compasses, and other accessories are useful during the sessions. Pencil and notepaper should be carried. Firebuilding, cooking, tracking and trailing, map making, judging and signalling and pioneering will be offered as activities as well as winter sports when conditions permit.

The regular fee of twenty five cents per camper will cover transportation to and from the camp and the food served at camp.

Watch for the Scout news column for all information about Winter Day Camp, and send your registration into the office now with the fee.

Tomorrow's Daily News will carry more interesting news of Girl Scout activities.

Along the Avenue

Wonder if that new car that the Police Department bought is going to be for the liquor squad?... The wolf may be away from the door at present but he is still around and wearing chains on his feet for the jump... Arlington is receiving commendation on all sides for the fine condition the streets were in after the storm... The sooner buses are put on from Harvard Square to Arlington Heights the sooner a great number will be pleased... Wouldn't some one be surprised if they thought we knew that know automobile cars have registration plates... Which gives thought. We have to learn a number of plates all over again now that the owners have 1934 plates... The Chief of Police and Sergeants' cars still have the same plates... You think you have a tough job. How about the janitors at the High School who work from 6.30 in the morning till 10.30 at night...

Will Tender Dinner To Arthur Lane

By BOB FOREST
Art Lane one of Arlington's favorite sons will be tendered a testimonial banquet on January 18 at the Commander Hotel. Art was captain of the undefeated Princeton team which has the right to claim the National Championship by virtue of its victory over Columbia who in turn defeated Stanford in that never to be forgotten game this week.

Arthur Lane otherwise known as "Gus" resides at 13 Winter st when he is home and graduated from Arlington High school in 1928. He played tackle on the Arlington High football team as he did at Princeton. He was a member of the 1927 Arlington High team that was one of the winners of the Mystic Valley League Championship. His record at Arlington High where he had hosts of friends consists of captain of the ice hockey team, president of the athletic association.

Those taking Economics were politely informed yesterday that the final exam will take place on January 29. This is one time in the year that seniors really study.

Wilbert Larson and John Cronin, our own songsters, are headed for a musical future, and they delight in singing solos.

Modern autobiographies will be the subject for the next Literary Club meeting.

Fritz Crisler the famed Princeton coach and Art's coach this year will be one of the speakers at the dinner with Bill Bingham, Eddie Casey, and Joe McKenney already signed up by Arthur Duffey, Jr., who is in charge of the affair. Danny Shea and Arthur Duffey, Jr., are two local boys on the committee. Art's genial manner and ever present good nature will guarantee a tremendous crowd which will gather to do honor to a fine boy and one of the greatest sportsmen that ever lived.

The old Melrose jinx still sticks. Arlington High was beaten by Melrose High Wednesday afternoon 3 to 1 in a scrimmage at Melrose. They just can't seem to shake that hockey jinx. For that is all it is now, Melrose had the better team before, but we think that Arlington High has the better team this year.

It may be a different story when the Arlington team faces them in the Garden later in the season. Arlington has a tough little customer in Rindge tomorrow and unless they play better than they did last Saturday they will get beaten.

The Arlington defense is nothing to rave about but we have an idea that the Rindge secondary is even worse. In fact if Gardella and Lax get a chance to make a few solos as well as Collins the score is liable to be a little better than last week.

Charlie Strack the heavyweight wrestler is now a resident of our fair town and has been for the past six months. He lives at 143 Forest st.

Pat Frawley is another wrestler who lives in the "Best Town On Earth." There are now four wrestlers of national distinction living in the town and yet boxing and wrestling are absolutely forbidden within the limits of the town.

The Amateur Athletic Basketball league is humming along on all twelve and continues next Tuesday night. If you want to see some good as well as interesting basketball come down to the Junior High East any night that the games are being played. Large crowds have witnessed the opening games.

The High School basketball team opens up tonight at Chelsea with its first game of the season. Hopes are high for a successful basketball team and for the sake of Bill Lowder who is coaching the team for his first time we wish them all the luck in the world and a successful season.

A testimonial dinner will be given at Lane, on Thursday Jan. 18 at the Commander Hotel. Get your tickets early because we are sure there are going to be hundreds upon hundreds present. Art has so many friends that if they all try to gather in one room we're afraid that it won't be large enough.

We remember the first person we met at Arlington High was Gus Lane and lo and behold do you know that he christened us "Buttercup." Where he got that name we don't know. But that is what it was. It was rather embarrassing at times but we have managed to live it down. That isn't the worst name we have ever been called.

Will we ever forget the spring that Gus went in swimming about the first of March. We were inveigled into doing the same. They hadn't let on that they had been going in right along. We dove into the icy water and was almost paralyzed. We managed to reach the dock and to the jeers of the more hardy we marched into the hot shower which we remained under for one solid hour.

Or the year that Gus Lane played both hockey and basketball. In fact the day he played a game of hockey and then came up the same night and played basketball in what is now the old gymnasium. He could not devote his whole time the next year to basketball and did not play, not that he wasn't good enough. They had the Tech tournament winners that year while Gus was leading his hockey team into the Round Robin in the Arena.

It was Gus who helped make Arlington High, Mystic Valley League Track Champs when he participated in the shot put as well as running in the 440 yard dash. He was very fast for a big fellow in High school and placed many times in the track season.

Gus was rather a quiet sort and we don't ever remember him getting in any kind of an athletic argument. He fought for every point but only if he thought his team had earned it. A man without a fault, he deserves everything that he gets.

The Arlington High hockey team certainly upset the dope last Saturday when it came back with a three goal rout to tie up Newton. It had it over Newton like a blanket as far as the forward lines were concerned. It was on the defense that Arlington was weak.

The Arlington defense composed of Lane, Collins, and Sakolan was like paper in the first two stanzas and the only reason why it didn't show up bad more than once in the last period was because the Arlington forward lines kept the puck in Newton territory.

The defense men are too prone to use their bodies. They think that if they bump a man it constitutes the whole story. There are really very few times in a game when the body checking of a man is the right thing to do. Most always it is better to stay in the play skating with the man and keeping him covered for a pass.

We admit the Arlington defense men are rugged but they are far from being tough except to look that way when they try one of their futile body checks.

and the sooner they learn how to throw a check the sooner the Arlington team will be improved.

The first two periods looked as though the Red and Gray had on snow shoes. Their passing was ragged. They gave the Newton team as many passes as they gave their own men. But that last period was a humdinger and made up for all their previous mistakes, but Arlington won't have all the luck they had in that third period to hold them the rest of the year. They will have to get out and fight for what they get and use their heads a little better than they did last Saturday.

Another thing that the Arlington players have failed to observe is the fact that the majority of players in the interscholastic League can only cut in one direction, and that with most of them it is to the left. This is a vital fact for a defense man to know because if a skater is coming at him, he should know from previous experiences with the man which way he cuts. If he cuts left then he will be cornered; more speed than if he is going to the right where he has to coast.

With every team playing every Saturday we should think it would be an easy matter for the teams to watch their next week's opponent and glove over these facts with their teammates. Notice whether a player comes in on the defense or skates around them. Notice the manner in which he attempts to cross up the defense. Every man has his own method and very few in the League have more than one way.

Sakolan made twelve saves for Arlington and had four goals scored against him. The Newton goalie had fourteen saves to make and also had four goals scored against him. He made five saves in the last period to one by Sakolan.

A peculiar situation that went unnoticed until probably now was the fact that Sullivan scored for Arlington when an Arlington man was in the penalty box leaving Newton with one more man than the Red and Gray skaters. The score was then three up.

Then Newton was handed a goal by the goal umpire who ruled that a puck hitting the outside of the post was good. We only hope he sticks to that ruling all year long. There was plenty of argument for Arlington about that goal, but the score ended up tie anyway. Arlington probably wouldn't have pushed a five man offense into Newton territory if they hadn't been trailing. That goal by Al Lane with five seconds to play certainly was a masterpiece.

Incidentally Billy Collins the other defense man didn't do so bad on the offense. He carried through the entire Newton team and shot at the goalie. His shot was knocked down but Bill Sullivan picked it up and drove it in for the first Arlington tally and gave the boys a little heart.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

by Edson R. White

Quite a number of our law-makers have been living in the realms of theory for some time. The sooner they get down to realities the better.

The power of the newspapers as an advertising medium has been proved by everyone who has specialized in advertising. The handbill is a futile method, out of date and reactionary. The press is mightier than the bill distributor.

If trade expansion with Latin America is our objective, which it should be, we should be willing to give as well as receive, and possibly as the largest of nations in the Western Hemisphere, commercially speaking, it is but logical to assume that we give somewhat more than we receive if complete good-will is to be a part of our commercial exchange.

The right kind of community is where the newspapers, churches, the clubs, business concerns and the individuals generally are working harmoniously toward the same end—and that is the development of a finer community.

The problems of government are largely social and economic, the solution of which can best be found in business administration, and, as a consequence, good government is nothing more or less than good business. Some mayors and governors practice this. Some don't.

More and more is the newspaper becoming the trail-blazer in the development of business.

"Get Rich Sure" makes a better slogan than "Get Rich Quick."

Varia Study Club To Hear Physician

The Varia Study club will meet next Monday evening, January 8, at the home of Miss Bernadine Brooks, 103 Claremont ave., 8 o'clock. After a business meeting the meeting will be turned over to Dr. Olive Cooper, from the State Department of Hygiene. Dr. Cooper's topic will be "Mental Hygiene."

ARLINGTON A. A. AND SKELETONS LEADING BASKETBALL LEAGUE

By BOB FOREST

With twelve teams competing in hot rivalry the Arlington Amateur Basketball League continues on its successful journey next week when six more games will be played. Not only the players have taken to the spirit but also have the fans who flock to the games. Large crowds have been present every night. The Arlington A. A. is the class of the Senior Division and everyone is wondering if one of the other teams can knock them off. The Cardinals in the Junior Division look like the whole show. They won by the record score of 71 to 11 the other night. The league fostered by the School Committee is primarily for the benefit of those boys who are out of school and have not the chance of engaging in athletic contests that boys in school do.

Many former greats are playing and are readily recognized by the crowds. There is Rafe Retto a former Arlington High captain and Paul Hendrick another former captain on one team with Dempsey, Hawkeye Leary, and Tom Keefe, all former Arlington High varsity men. Joe Donahue, a former Basketball Captain, is the real class with his team composed of Friery and Driscoll. The three were members of that famous All-East Schoolboy team of '28 that won the Tech Tournament. Ed Gallucci the sharpshooter of a couple of years ago at the High school, and George Lowder of a couple of years before that. They are all on one team. It is a dream come true to see all these great players working together. Joe Goodwin is also on that team.

In Junior teams we have Peterson, Pyne, Bowe, Phinney, Hardy, Jacobson, Converse, Lionetta, Grac, Hart, Igo, Bullock, Nelson, Glennan, Clark, Alexie, Moriarty, Quinn and Wood, all products of Class teams at Arlington High. Another Captain at Arlington High is Harold Davidson, with Gordon Wright ace basket shooter of last year and Joe Murphy of two years ago as teammates.

Color is not lacking in any of the games and if you are a basketball fan, you will thrill to see the stars of every year playing not only together but as a unit. To see some of that famous Tech Tournament quintet on the floor is a thrill in itself. Athletic stars from every year so far back as 1926 range the floors as free and as limber as ever.

Monday will see the League continued with games between The Fab Seniors and the Pals in the Senior division and two games in the Junior Division, the Fab Juniors vs. the Arlington Cardinals, and the East End Pirates vs. the Heights A. A. Juniors.

The Fab Senior game will be a highlight as well as the game their Junior team will be playing. Both contests are fairly equal. The Heights and the East End will clash for supremacy in the Junior Division when the Pirates

Making it six in a row the Arlington A. A. defeated Co. E of Medford 36-22 at the Medford Armory. The soldiers were never in the game after the first period and the Big Red proceeded to a victory. The Arlington A. A. team is one of great class with a smooth passing and scoring attack. The score at half time was 15-8 and from that point on the local boys mastered the situation.

Junior Civic League Guest Of Chief

On December 21, the Arlington Junior Civic League held its meeting in the Highland Fire Station at the invitation of Chief Tierney who was their speaker at the previous meeting. The meeting was presided over by the President Ralph Anderson. After a short business meeting, Captain Kennedy conducted the members on a tour of inspection throughout the Station. A tale of Tira, the carnival performer, romantic melodrama of very young persons written by that authority of the love problems of young persons, Vina Delmar and popularized recently as a serial in Liberty Magazine. "Chance at Heaven" starring assisted by Marion Nixon presents and unravels the problems of Blacky Gorman and Marjorie Harris, childhood sweethearts of a small New England town and Glory Franklin, a society Deb who enters Blacky's life just as wedding bells are about to chime. Combined with the enthralling romance of "Chance at Heaven" as only Vina Delmar can depict it, is an abundance of comedy. A great deal of it is attributed to Andy Devine in his role of Blacky's gas station assistant.

The last half of the week starting Thursday offers Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter in "Paddy the Next Best Thing," which marks this successful team's first co-starring picture since "Daddy Long Legs." Miss Gaynor has her strongest role to date, for in addition to her well-known wistfulness she is here required to show her newly found spirit. She is a rogue—and she is irresistibly charming. As the man who brings her down to earth and convince her of his love, Warner Baxter is in his most popular element. He is suave, handsome and the gentlest of lovers.

The companion picture, "The Power and the Glory" starring Spencer Tracy marks the successful comeback of Colleen Moore, a screen favorite of several years ago. In this picture she plays a very dramatic role splendidly portraying Spencer Tracy's wife. The story is a powerful one of a woman's ambition for the man she loves, and it is told in a new way with Ralph Morgan as the narrator.

ADMIRER PAYS TRIBUTE TO ARLINGTON'S POET
IN KENTUCKY PAPER

"For though our early settlers showed a mind at beaten paths to flout, They kept each little bovine road Just as the cows had laid it out. Along the pathways here and there To build their homes they were not loath, They simply built them anywhere. No city planners said beware, They did not know and did not care. About the city's future growth. And so today a million feet Are treading in the narrow way. Wherein the fathers used to meet And haggle o'er the price of hay. And autos in a long parade, As fast as traffic signs allow, Go honking through the pathways made, The narrow pathways blindly made Without one thought of Boston's trade. Long since by some slow, wandering cow. But stay, O Stranger from afar! Confess, in spite of all dispraise, That in your heart of hearts you are Delighted with our winding ways. Is there not something quaint and dear, Some old-world charm that always meets The eyes of those who venture here From younger cities, far and near, To lose themselves amid the queer Old twists and turns of Boston's streets?"

In thinking of Boston and her crooked ways, I am reminded of another short poem by Dr. McCarthy, which reads like this—

THE ROAD TO HAPPINESS
The road that runs to happiness Is not so very long: 'Tis not a wide and gleaming street Where people crowd and throng. See the little roadway By your door that lies, Oh, that's the road to happiness Right before your eyes! Some seek this road in foreign lands: They wander wide and far. But you may wisely find it In whatever land you are. 'Tis the place you've always Known in work and play,

Oh, yes, the road to happiness Is just the common way! In all his poems Dr. McCarthy leads one to see the bright and beautiful side of the object he writes of. There is never the dark or gloomy side.

In his book of poems on Ireland and her folk you will find this little verse. It too is about roads and streets. I will quote it with the Irish spelling, that he used in writing it.

THE LITTLE STREETS OF HOME
I walked the streets o' Paris, an' I walked the streets o' Rome, But my heart within was long, in' for the little streets o' home, Gray streets an' narra streets an' shabby streets are they. But frindlier than the foreign streets an' dearer every way, Aisy 'tis to count them—for I must confess they're few: Main Street an' Castle Street an' Greystone Street and mas, Dr. McCarthy brings out those thoughts, but back of all that he leads one to think not only of home celebrations, but of the Christ Child. His mission here and of the Father's love and tenderness.

I am sorry I didn't know Dr. McCarthy. I saw him often about our town, or at public functions. Then one day in summer he slipped quietly away to be with His Master. We laid his body away in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, a beautiful spot overlooking the Mystic Lakes. Men and women prominent in our land came to do him honor. They came from the literary walks of life, as well as from prominent places in Religion and politics. Though a Catholic, the Protestant Churches of Hyannis, Mass. held a united memorial service for him. That was just one of many testimonials, of his great worth.

—An Admirer.

Oh, yes, the road to happiness Is just the common way! In all his poems Dr. McCarthy leads one to see the bright and beautiful side of the object he writes of. There is never the dark or gloomy side.

to relieve the unemployment crisis. However, in spite of the fact that the Finance Committee cut the Public Works appropriation $32,000, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Ryan the work of the Department was carried through to a successful conclusion—the highway program was completed, the efficiency of the Sanitary and the Water Department was not impaired, and through the co-operation of the workmen the work was divided up as equally as possible. The fact that the department was able to maintain the high standard of service with so greatly a reduced appropriation, is a fine tribute to the ability and efficiency of Mr. Ryan.

During the coming campaign Mr. Ryan will present to the voters a more detailed account of his record as Chairman of the Board and upon this record asks that he be given an opportunity to carry on for another term. Searchlight Club Meeting On Thursday

The January meeting of the Arlington Searchlight Club will be held on Thursday, January 11 at 3 p. m. in the Robbins library hall. The speaker will be James H. Powers, of the Boston Globe. His subject will be "American Policies in the Pacific." Mr. Powers is one of the leading editorial writers on the Globe and one of the special writers of the Uncle Dudley column. His book, "Years of Tumult—The World Since 1918" paints a spirited picture of Mother Earth and gives a good discussion of confused world politics. He has made an exhaustive study of relations in the Far East and is an authority on this subject.

The January meeting will be open and the club has invited the International Relations Committee of the Woman's Club to be present and would like to extend the same invitation to all those interested in the problems to be discussed, this being a good opportunity to hear a comprehensive talk by James Powers, an exceptional speaker who has a complete knowledge of his subject.

ARLINGTON SCOUTS BRAVE SUB-ZERO WEATHER DURING STAY AT CAMP

That Scouts know how to care for themselves in severe winter weather, and enjoy the experience is proved by the fact that a goodly number of Scouts from Troop 7, under the leadership of Scoutmaster George R. Wright, Assistant Scoutmaster George Snell and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Leo Murphy went to Camp Oak Tuesday, December 26, in the heavy snowstorm, and remained there until Saturday in spite of the very cold weather.

On the way to camp the Scouts assisted many motorists who were stalled in the deep snow. It was fun, but a costly "Good Turn," because Mr. Wright and Mr. Snell ran out of gas on their return trip for the cars. However, the Scouts had extra food supplies at camp. Mr. Wright, Scoutmaster, took a bus to Arlington to get another car, and returned late that evening with the food and extra clothing for some of the boys who were not supplied with overshoes, etc.

Joseph Ahern, Jr., Paul Snell and Joseph Dimodica did the cooking and performed their duties well, while Mr. Wright made some of his well-known delicious pies.

On Wednesday they enjoyed some of the winter sports, but on Thursday, as the mercury began to drop, they were kept busy cutting wood and more wood, and did not realize it was so cold. In the evening they listened to the radio, sang many songs, and told stories.

Early Friday morning some one looked at the thermometer and it was 22 degrees below. After breakfast the Scouts continued to chop plenty of wood for the fire in the cabin, which was comfortable all times. During the night the mercury registered 24 degrees below and inside the cabin was 60 degrees above.

Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, Troop Chaplain, and Dr. William F. Dolan, visited the Troop on Saturday as it was breaking camp and found everyone none the worse for the experience in spite of the sub-zero weather.

The Scouts all agreed that the thrill of winter camping was over when the mercury rose to 5 degrees above at noon.

Those who made the trip were Joseph Ahern, S. P. L. Paul Snell, Joseph Dimodica, Francis O'Brien, Angelo Dimodica, John Dolan, Ralph Seabury, Paul Good, Donald and John Snell, also Scouts Caren and Snowden of Troop 19.

Leading merchants have cooperated by advertising and assistance has been rendered by the Jefferson Club of Cambridge. The show consists of Minstrel and Cabaret, after which there will be dancing. Among the dancing girls are Helen Hogan, Lillian Henderson, Grace Garvin, Pauline and Dorothy Joy, Laura O'Connor, Barbara Russell, and Lena Barry; Endmen are Eddie and Vin Harkins, Hugo Graham, Hy Arbeter, Bill Murray and Frank O'Neill; Interlocutor M. The Misses Mary and B. A. Reardon of Arlington are among the day's arrivals at the Barbizon-Plaza Hotel in New York City.

Junior Garden Club Year Old

The Junior Garden club will be one year old on January 6, therefore the 12th will be a birthday meeting with a surprise in store.

The club met recently as usual and six members braved the bitter cold to attend. Because of the small number present, the members' own program was omitted and there was a general discussion of various subjects instead.

Evelyn Farley gave the Flower Biography on the Zinnia, and Carl Mellin and Elaine Twitchell received their Garden Notebooks for seven projects accomplished. The next meeting, January 12th, instead of being a talk on "Ants" as scheduled, will be a craft meeting when members will make Bird Houses. Each member please bring a hammer and scissors.

The Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary held their first meeting at the home of the president Mrs. Marion B. (supplied by Mrs. B. J. O'Leary) Dec. 23. Mothers of the children were also present.

Hardy School P-T-A To Meet

A meeting of the Hardy school Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, Jan. 9, at 8 o'clock.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott, whose subject will be "Some Causes of School Failure." The program committee has arranged an interesting musical entertainment. Mothers of the fifth grade will act as hostesses, and refreshments will be served.

Marriages On Increase In This Town

Times are surely getting better. According to figures at the office of Town Clerk E. Caroline Pierce, 347 marriages were performed in Arlington during the year just ended as compared with 318 during the year 1932. From these figures it is quite evident that a spirit of optimism prevails and more are taking the all-important step with the feeling that the crisis in business is now passed.

Modern storage warehouse for Chesterfield tobacco

EUROPEAN

It adds something to the Taste and makes them Milder

SOMETHING like the method of ageing fine wines is used in ageing and mellowing the tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes.

The picture you see here was taken inside one of our modern storage warehouses where the tobaccos for Chesterfield are put away.

There are about four and one-half miles of these Liggett & Myers warehouses filled with thousands of casks of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos, most of it lying there ageing and mellowing for Chesterfield cigarettes.

It takes just about three years to age the tobacco for your Chesterfields.

Everything that money can buy and that science knows about that can make a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better,
is used in making Chesterfields.
